CHIP BAKER FILMS PRESENTS “DEATH BORDER,” A DESERT SLASHER FROM THE ARIZONA-MEXICO FRONTIER

STREAMING JANUARY 5, 2027 ON AMAZON, GOOGLE TV, AND DISH

Inspired by the civilian militias patrolling America’s southern border, “Death Border” drops a group of patriots into the Arizona desert on the Day of the Dead, where drug runners, bandits, and a killer with its own agenda are all hunting the same ground.

Starring David Gilliam, Natalie Denise Sperl, Victor Colicchio, Mark Holden, Ken Luckey, Daniel Jordan, and Crispian Belfrage, the film follows these border patriots as they collide with every faction moving through the desert after dark. Drug runners. Bandits. Humanitarian workers. The undocumented. And a masked figure keeping its own vigil, with a kill list all its own.

“Death Border” streams January 5, 2027, to rent or buy on Amazon, Google TV, and Dish. Trailer and release updates at Deathborder.com.
